King Salomon's diamonds have been discovered!

Around 2,000 A.D., KING LOUIS from Switzerland releases their first Album titled "Holidays In Purgatory". It's the sparkling prey of an expedition to the dark sides of the human soul. The bands message: "A Rock celebration – in excess, abysmal and profound!"

Greedy of murder, manslaughter and sacrilege, the last two years, the trio KING LOUIS stalks through the blood and the mud and the beer of all rock-clichés of the last twenty years. With brut force, sweat and a manic devotion, the band is whipping guitars, bass and drums to their limits.

With their texts, the band has laid open the deepest human atrocities and reached the gates of hell – the millennial purgatory. But in "Holidays In Purgatory" they found the treasure which accompanies the ongoing expedition. King Salomon's diamonds were classified as missing. The musical genius of Lee (vocal & guitars), Misses Frau Lehmann (bass) and Charles Monroe (drums) has made the mission to raise them possible. In eight jewels such as 'You'll Die' the safari-rockers realised their proper ideas.

At live concerts, numerous fans enjoy the powerful performance which inspired the band to go on.

An end to this expedition is nowhere in sight – on the contrary. The album is to be released as vinyl and CD. You are more than welcome to stalk with KING LOUIS for a little while, to accompany the expedition and to get it ahead.
